See what we achieved

We built, piloted and validated sustainable solutions in order to upgrade the capacity of youth professionals and eventually youth organisations, addressing the lower range of Generation Y (aged 25-29) and the upper one of Generation Z, through European state-of-the-art second chance education (SCE) methods and practices.

Objectives:To enhance and recognise the professional development of youth workers.
To facilitate engagement and equity in learning by validating high-quality tools and resources.

To establish a European community and learning hub for youth professionals.

“Youth SCE Tutor Competence Framework” to strengthen the professional awareness and identity of youth stakeholders by identifying and recognizing the areas competence (knowledge, skills & attitudes) that underpin the youth professional’s diverse and multifaceted role.

“Youth SCE Tutor Competence Development Courseware” to provide a diverse offer of professional development opportunities specifically developed to meet the needs of youth professionals.

“GEN Y/Z - SCOODLE Learning Hub” online platform to encourage the establishment and further development of cross European networks of youth professionals to strengthen professional identity.

“GEN Y/Z – SCOODLE Transferability Toolkit” embedding terms of quality reference to the “Youth SCE Tutor Competence Framework” and “Youth SCE Accreditation Scheme”, the learning design of the “Youth SCE Tutor Competence Development Courseware”, coupled with the “Youth SCE Tutor Courseware Quality Framework”.
